

Short-beaked echidna tongue

Echidnas slurp up ants and other insects with their sticky, saliva-coated tongue which can be 17cm long!

The echidnas scientific name, Tachyglossus means "fast tongue," from the way the tongue rapidly darts in and out of its mouth to slurp up insects.

